

Psychology

Teacher Course: Psychology	Grade: 11-12	Subject(s): Social Sciences	Unit: Mind and Body: Motivation, Emotion, and Altered States	Month(s): November	Unit Time Duration: 2 - 3 Weeks
-------------------------------	-----------------	--------------------------------	---	-----------------------	------------------------------------

Vocabulary:

Motivation, emotion, sleep, dreams, homeostasis, innate, biological, hypnosis, consciousness, hallucinations, posthypnotic suggestion, drive reduction theory, competency, hierarchy of needs,

Targets

Add Knowledge Target

Knowledge Targets:

- Recognize different theories on motivation/emotion and impact on psychology
- Understand terminology associated with this unit
- Identify different types of social motivation and where they originate from
- Understand how hypnosis works and what its benefits are
- Describe insomnia and techniques used by insomniacs

Add Skills Targets

Skills Targets:

- Investigate how motivation and emotion work together or independently of each other

Add Reasoning Targets

Reasoning Targets:

· Analyze what effect sleep patterns/dreams may have on human behavior

Examine various interpretations of dreams on the internet and analyze findings

Order the stages of sleep/interpret how they apply to you

Add Product Targets

Product Targets:

· group completion of 'Field of Dreams' analysis/application

Activities

Add Activities - All Learners

Activities - All Learners:

· view movie: Field of Dreams

Internet: Dream Analysis